DECISION OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS «GENOFUND–3000»

The First International Congress “Genofund 3000” took place in Odessa, Ukraine, from 12-16 April. It was attended by 126 participants from 5 countries (Ukraine, Russia, Switzerland, Germany, Belarus). Among the participants were representatives of State and public organizations, the United Nations and other international organizations.

The Congress considered the following subjects:

1. Genofund of the Planet as a uniform system. The quality of the genofund of the country as a basic resource and integral index of the social development of the country.
2. The role of public and national structures, Scientific and business circles in forming the regional health and longevity managing systems, retaining and improving genofund quality.
3. Political, social and psychological climate of the society and territory as a resource for maintaining and improving the genofund, moral and genetic health. System indices of health of a human being, family, society and human civilization.
4. Stress as a genofund-destroying factor. Stress resistance as the basis for the moral, psychological, social and genetic health of people and society. Fear and stress. Main fears and their sources (starvation, diseases, terrorism, etc.). Models and methods for overcoming fear.
5. Drugh epidemic, alcoholism, AIDS, rising aggressiveness, criminality and other social and moral diseases as blows against the genofund. Regional prophylactic systems and models of rehabilitation of socially disadvantaged persons.
6. Health management as a resource for preserving the genofund and national safety. Educational medicine and information as a means for preserving and strengthening the genofund. Dietary culture as a means for preserving the genofund of society and national food security.
7. Health and longevity as the required and guaranteed result of education and training: new models and technologies of public and social education.
8. Education as an effective method for developing and implementing system-wide social programs to promote a healthy way of life of individuals and society.
9. Children and youth as the main driving force of renovation and restoration of genofund. System-wide models of interactions between children, parents, school, family and the State as the basis for preserving and improving the genofund.

The Congress noted and stated:

1. The changes in the international situation connected with the latest events in Iraq have shown that the consciousness of the world community no longer accepts force as a way to solve problems. The Congress participants therefore see new possibilities of international cooperation to create a world without wars and conflicts by implementing system-wide public education projects in order to enhance the physical, social and moral health of society within the framework of the International Project “Planet 3000”.
2. The Congress participants decided to call the project: International Mega Project “Genofund 3000”.
3. The Mega project “Genofund 3000” integrates working projects in the regions, makes known the results of our efforts and enables us to enter a new level of concerted actions for creating a new standard of life, health and longevity as the basis for the development of the socially-oriented State.
4. During the Congress the project for implementing the Mega Project “Genofund 3000” was developed. The project includes various programs and the following working groups:
